1. INTRODUCTION

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (the “Act”) gives third parties the right to approach private bodies and the government to request information held by them, which is required in the exercise and/or protection of any rights. On request, the private body or government is obliged to release such information. This right to access information is subject to justifiable limitations, including:

- Limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy;
- Commercial confidentiality;
- Effective, efficient and good governance

And in a manner which balances that right with other rights, including rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

This manual informs requestors of procedural and other requirements which a request must meet as prescribed by the Act.

7. RECORDS AUTOMATICALLY AVAILABLE WITHOUT HAVING TO MAKE A REQUEST IN THE PRESCRIBED FORM

Records of a public nature, typically disclosed on our website, may be accessed without the need to submit a formal application.

Other non-confidential records, such as statutory records maintained at CIPC, may also be accessed without the need to submit a formal application, however, please note that an appointment to view such records still has to be made through the Information Officer.

8. THE REQUEST PROCEDURES

8.1 *Form of request

The requester must comply with the procedural requirements contained in the Act relating to the request for access to a record.

The requester must use the prescribed form, form C to make the request for access to a record. This must be made to the Information Officer. This request must be made to the address or electronic mail address as per the Contact details.

The requester must provide sufficient detail on the request form to enable the Information Officer to identify the record and the requester. The requester should also indicate which form of access is required. The requester should also indicate if any other manner is to be used to inform the requester and state the necessary particulars to be so informed.

The requester must identify the right that is sought to be exercised or to be protected and provide an explanation of why the requested record is required for the exercise or protection of that right.

If a request is made on behalf of another person, the requester must then submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the satisfaction of the head of the private body.

The Information Officer will take reasonable steps, if the requester is not a personal requester, to inform a third to whom the requested record relates, in order for the third party to make submissions to the Information officer why the request should be refused, or where required, give written consent for the disclosure of the requested record.

8.2 *Fees

A requester who seeks access to a record containing personal information about that requester is not required to pay the request fee. Every other requester, who is not a personal requester, must pay the required request fee:

The Information Officer must notify the requester (other than a personal requester) by notice, requiring the requester to pay the prescribed fee (if any) before further processing the request.

The fee that the requester must pay to a private body is R50. The requester may lodge an application to the court against the tender or payment of the request fee.

After the Information Officer has made a decision on the request, the requester must be notified in the required form.

If the request is granted then a further access fee must be paid for the search, reproduction, preparation and for any time that has exceeded the prescribed hours to search and prepare the record for disclosure. The information officer shall withhold the record until the requester has paid the fees.

The Information Officer shall sever a record, if possible, and grant only access to that portion requested and which is not prohibited from being disclosed.

8.3 Grounds for refusal

A Private Body, such as this, is entitled to refuse a request for information. Potential reasons for refusal may include:

Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party which would involve the unreasonable disclosure of the personal information of that third party.

Mandatory protection of commercial information of a third party if the record contains:

- o Trade secrets of the third party
- o Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could cause harm to the commercial or financial interests of the third party
- o Information disclosed to us in confidence if the disclosure of the information will put the third party at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.

Mandatory protection of information if it is protected in terms of any agreement

Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property.

Mandatory protection of records which would be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings.

Commercial activities of a Private Body such as us, which may include

- o Our trade secrets
- o Information which may put us at a disadvantage in negotiations
- o Any program or procedure protected by copyright

Requests for information that are clearly frivolous or vexatious, or which involve an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.

All request will be assessed on their own merits and in accordance with the applicable legal principles and legislation.

If a requested record cannot be found or does not exist, the Information officer shall notify the requester and such a notice shall be regarded as a decision to refuse access. If the record should later be found, the requester shall be given access in the manner stipulated in the prescribed form, unless the Information Officer has grounds to refuse access.

8.4 Remedies

Internal remedies

We do not have any internal appeal procedure and the decision made by the Information officer is final. If the requester is not satisfied with the answer provided by the Information Officer, then the requester must exercise such external remedies as are available.

External remedies

A requester that is dissatisfied by the decision of the Information Officer may, within 30 days of being informed of the decision, apply to a Court for relief.

For the purpose of this Act, the following courts have jurisdiction:

- Constitutional court

- High court

- A magistrate's court designated by the Minister of Justice
